

Air Pollution And Reported Health In Los Angeles County

From left to right: Data is entered into ArcGIS in vector format than converted to raster using the spatial analysis toolset. Data is then reclassified and summed for the two categories then reclassified and summed together resulting in the final map displaying optimal sites for future study.